Messrs S. H. & H. Chapman,
Philadelphia, Pa.

Gentlemen:

Catalogue of your sale just recd. I am quite anxious to get an 1795 Eagle and Half Eagle and send you a bid for each.

You quoted me a price of $20 for $10
piece and from $12 to $15 for $5 about a year ago. I noticed at auction sales the Eagles run from $15 up to $22 & the Half Eagles from as low as $9 to $14. I send you a bid of $16 and $12. Do you think I have any chance for them? Can you do any better for me out of your own stock? I would not require an absolutely perfect specimen, but a good fair specimen
not badly rubbed or marked would answer.

I also want an octagonal Gold Dollar

I send a bid of $14 with the understanding that if I should get the first lot I would not want any more. Can you accept this bid in this way.
If you can also quote me a price on one of these I would just as soon get it from you as not if price is right
I also send bid on another lot. Understand this to be the same as a 1/2 Dobra equal to $8.65 in bullion value. If I am not right please let me know.

I shall be glad to hear from you.

Yours very truly
John B. Brewster.

Messrs S. H. & H. Chapman.

Gentlemen:

I am thinking of disposing of my gold and silver coins and write to see what sort of an offer I could get from you.

My gold coins have cost me in the neighborhood of $325. I have not the exact figures before me but can give them to you.

Of this amount I suppose fully half ~~was~~ ^{was} bought from you.

What discount would you ask in coins the past year according to auction records, and I do not feel that mine have become any less valuable. For that reason I would like a good fair return on my purchase money although I expect to sell at some loss.

If you think favorably of my proposition and want further particulars I will send exact list (or the coins themselves) with exact cost of every piece I have. You will then know exactly what I paid and you can make me the very best offer you can.

I do not need the money, but want to get it out before long as I can use it to better advantage some to take them back? And would you make an offer on the balance?

I have also about 60 or 70 silver crowns, half crowns & dollars which have cost me about $90. I would like to dispose of those also.

I would prefer to dispose of the whole lot at once, in preference to working them off gradually and on that account would be willing to stand some loss. At the same time I do not care to make any big loss.

I do not care to run the risk of selling at auction as one never knows how they will go. I have had considerable experience in stamps on that line, and I think the auction charge of 25% excessive.

There has been quite a boom

what else.

With few exceptions my coins are in good condition as you probably know from what you sold me.

I will be glad to hear from
you in reply at any time

Yours very truly
John B. Brown

Messrs. S. H. & H. Chapman.

Philadelphia, Pa.

Gentlemen:

I sent you yesterday
by Adams Express (prepaid and insured) my gold and silver coins
which you agreed to make me an offer on.

I enclose a full list of all coins, showing where purchased and price paid for each. This price also includes 10% commission in all cases where I purchased at auction and that and I am quite free to tell you I am willing to stand a loss in consideration of making the sale in one lump. I am quite confident that I could get all my money out if I chose to take the time & trouble to dispose of them at private sale.

I would say that any offer you make will be considered as final. If it is satisfactory I will accept it at once. If it is not I will simply ask you to return the coins at my expense. I shall not ask you to increase your offer or haggle over it.

I trust you will find you can make me a commission was charged.

The prices are also all marked on the coin envelopes in my code word "Kilmanough". On the coin envelopes you will also see a value in figures which is the gold or bullion value.

My gold coins figure up to $305.06 and my silver coins to $80.86 making a total of $385.92 which is under the figure I told you. My gold coins were in safe deposit and I thought they figured a little more.

Now as to your offer I can only say that I would like to get all I possibly can which is natural. You know exactly what they stand me in good offer and hope to hear from you as soon as possible.

Awaiting your reply I am

Yours very truly

John B. Brewster.
